Scots Gaelic Song Workshop in St. Paul

Jennifer Licko is excited to be bringing a Scots Gaelic song workshop to St. Paul, MN!

April 26th, 2014 at 9:30 AM at the Celtic Junction

No previous Scots Gaelic language knowledge is needed. The study focus is on the music and the purpose of the song. Although, one should expect a few language explanations as needed for the singing. The workshop provides students with the experience of learning the musical purpose of each song. Before a dance tune is learned, the dance step is demonstrated to visually see how the tune rhythm matches with the dance step. As a work song is learned, work song motions are made while singing in order to feel the emphasis on the beat and understand the rise and fall of the song.

I began competitive Scottish Dance at the age of 9 and competed as a premier Highland Dancer until age 22. I also hold a BA in Music Education and I've been teaching Celtic cultural arts through music and dance in school settings since 2003.

I can't wait to share my love of this music with others!

125th Anniversary Celebration in McIntosh, Minnesota
Here's some news passed on by Robbie Bryant:

I have received a request for bagpipe players, color guard, Celtic music for the 125th Anniversary celebration in McIntosh, Minnesota on July 5th, 2014. They have a Pipe and Drums group coming from Canada this year and wanted to expand on this theme. The contact is Bruce Haaven, contact me for his phone and email...Robbie (robbie.bryant.739@facebook.com)

The city of McIntosh, MN was named for Angus John (A.J.) McIntosh, of Scottish descent, who immigrated from French Canada to the United States in 1870. It might be nice to have a Scottish community presence at their celebration!

Hire a Scottish Pipe Band for your company's event!

Looking for that extra special something to make your event stand out? Consider hiring a Scottish Pipe Band for a private concert! And support a great cause at the same time. For a $2,000 donation to the Minnesota Scottish Fair & Highland Games, The Macalester College Pipe Band has offered to perform a concert for your company function/event (subject to band availability). Interested parties, please contact Mike Breidenbach for more details.
