NEWS

Do you like kilts and travel?

The Celtic Croft is looking for a crew, preferably a two person team, to travel around the country attending Scottish, Irish, and other Celtic festivals and events. This job can be done by one multi-talented individual, but is obviously easier with two people with different talents sharing the work and responsibilities.

The job will require long hours sitting in a truck, towing a trailer, hard work, and heavy lifting. You must be friendly, outgoing, and good with customers (retail experience is a benefit).

You must have a good eye for setting up an appealing "store" environment. Because we specialize in custom-made kilts and other clothing, you will learn to take accurate measurements and place orders. You must be comfortable with measuring people (men, women, and children) to fit for kilts, kilted skirts, jackets, etc. Sometimes this gets a bit "up close and personal", and you can't be squeamish about it.

You need to be a self-motivated, self-starter, get-er-done kinda person. This job will not work for you if you are a "wait to be told what to do" kinda person. (Well, I guess if you are a couple, then probably one of you can be that person.)

Please email lorie@thecelticroft.com if you think you might be interested.

Please verify details before attending events.

The SNIM is sponsored by the Scottish American Center. We welcome news from all variety of Celts. Please send news, announcements, questions and concerns to scottishnewsinmn@gmail.com. Please note, editorial pieces may be subject to approval by the Scottish American Center board before posting.

Thank you!
